

ISEE Latin America and the Caribbean Chapter (LAC)

- Our mission is to promote and strengthen scientific research in environmental epidemiology in LAC countries
- All ISEE members born, residing, or conducting research in a LAC country can become members of our Chapter
- Some of the ongoing activities of our Chapter are:
 - Online updated 2021 Environmental Epidemiology course in Spanish (in collaboration with the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO))
 - Monthly webinars on common environmental health problems in the region (in collaboration with PAHO)
 - LAC Chapter website- with information on past Webinars, research from LAC members
 - By-weekly emails to our members with recent publications, job postings, collaboration opportunities, and webinars/courses
